OF ADELBERT COLLEGE

WESTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY

CLEVELAND, OHIO

INTRODUCTION

THIS IS THE RECORD OF THE COLLEGE AND THE COLLEGE AND THE COLLEGE YEAR. THE THINGS WHICH WE HAVE DONE ARE WRITTEN DOWN FOR US AND FOR POSTERITY. WE ARE PROUD OF OUR COLLEGE AND ITS ACCOMPLISHMENTS, OF ITS FACULTY AND ITS LEARNING, OF THE STUDENT BODY AND ITS ACHIEVEMENTS. AS FAR AS PRINT AND PICTURES WILL ENABLE US, WE HAVE STRIVEN TO MAKE THE RECORD COMPLETE. THE HOPES AND FEARS, THE PLANS MADE BUT NOT BROUGHT TO FRUITION, AND THE MOMENTARY JOYS AND SORROWS, WE CANNOT PORTRAY; THEY ARE THE OVERTONES, THE MEMORIES, WHICH WE HOPE THE CONTENTS OF THIS BOOK WILL IN YEARS TO COME REVIVE FOR ALL OF US WHO HAVE BEEN ASSOCIATED TOGETHER IN ADELBERT COLLEGE.

THE EDITORS.

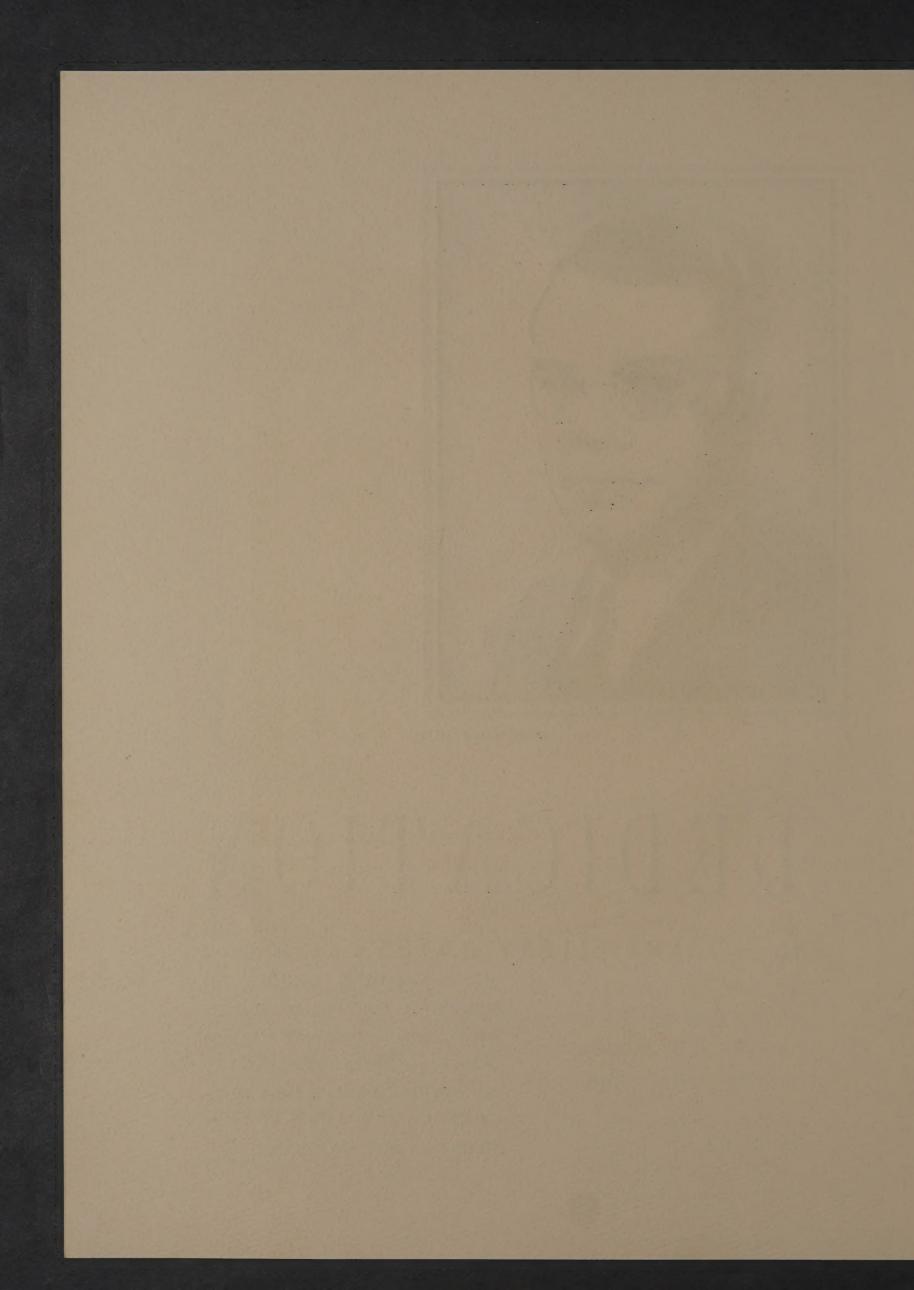

ROBERT ELLERY BATES

DEDICATION

to ROBERT ELLERY BATES ... HIS WISDOM

AND SYMPATHETIC COUNSEL, HIS THOUGHTFUL GUIDANCE OF STUDENT EFFORT, BOTH INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLECTIVELY, AND HIS FURTHERANCE OF ALL WORTHY ENDEAVORS, HAVE ESTABLISHED HIM AS A FRIEND OF EVERY STUDENT IN ADELBERT COLLEGE.

Winfred G. Leutner became President of Western Reserve University in 1933. He took his undergraduate work at Adelbert College from which he was graduated with the A.B. degree in 1901. From Adelbert, Dr. Leutner went to Johns Hopkins where he received his Ph.D. degree. His primary interests lay in the field of classical languages. As a result, he journeyed to Europe where he pursued intensive study in Rome and Athens. On returning to Reserve he became instructor in Greek in 1903 and dean of university administration. As president he was confronted with the enormous problems of efficiently administering an institution so complex as this University at a time when Western Reserve, like many other non-profit organizations, was feeling the effects of a great depression. For his sound judgment and careful guidance throughout this period, we say "Hats Off."

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Sophomores, Class of '43, have left an enviable record as a goal for following classes. School spirit and the various school organizations and activities have been benefited greatly by the contributions given by members of this class. The Sun Bowl victor's were benefited by the hard play of Familo, Borland, Culp, Skoczen, Taylor, Mulhollen, Narwold, McQuillen, Lynch, and Udelson while the basketball team was reinforced by Taylor, Lynch, Reed, Skoczen, Gazoway and Lopatnikov. Out of the eight lettermen from the swimming team, seven were members of this class, namely, Schwab, Narwold, Murry, Berkheiser, Seltsam, Krohmer and Kral. Topped by the beating of the Freshmen in the annual flag rush during the first semester, and the successful Frosh-Soph Hop during the second semester this class has left and accomplished much throughout the school year.

FRESHMAN CLASS

In the fall of 1940, a fine group of students entered Adelbert and became destined to represent the Class of '44. The annual Freshman Week, consisting of the Freshman Outing, campus inspection, placement examinations, and the Freshman Mixer Dance was followed by a gradual settling down to the long hard grind of studies and final examinations. Before long, however, this class proved its ability and desire to carry on the traditions characteristic of Adelbert. During the school year, all of the various social events were attended by a fine representation of this class.

Awaiting the call of football coach Davies, is one of the finest Freshman teams the school has seen for nearly a decade. Basketball coach Clifford also has a freshman squad of very promising ability, and the same can be said for the hockey team. All in all, Adelbert's athletics will be very much benefited by the members of the Class of '44. The school publications, the drama department, and all of the other organizations on the campus, have found ample ability, in men from this class, to carry on their activities. Leading the Freshmen this year are President Paul Raymer, Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer Gene Savage. Adelbert can expect and will receive from this class many men of outstanding ability in athletics, leadership, and scholarship.

NIHON

JOSEPH B. STICKNEY
Editor

The Nihon—valuable now, precious in future years; a permanent pictorial account of your college days. It is the Nihon you will refer to in years to come when you wish to recall college athletic events, dances, honors, fraternity life, and classes. It is the policy of the staff to record each important event from freshman week through graduation, as well as many sidelights of the school year. Nowhere can such a comprehensive account of campus history be found than in the volumes of the college annual.

JOHN W. SCHULTE Managing Editor . BERNARD R. KRASHIN

Business Manager

Actually, work on this year's Nihon was begun in the spring of 1940, soon after the 1941 editor was appointed. Preliminary plans, estimates, layouts, and contracts are worked out during the spring and summer. Shortly after school begins in the fall, the editor appoints his staff and compilation of material gets under way. On December 15th the first engraver's deadline must be met, on March 15th the printers deadline, and by the middle of April the entire book is in the hands of the printer.

TRIBUNE

Now in its thirty-seventh year of publication, the Reserve Tribune is considered one of the outstanding collegiate publications in the country. The Tribune, published every Tuesday throughout the school year, fulfills its purpose of publishing news of school events; following, leading, and interpreting student opinion, and working for needed improvements and reforms. The influence exerted by the Reserve Tribune on the campus is immeasurable. In these times of national emergency, the collegiate newspapers mirror the opinions and attitudes of the younger generation ---in particular the college students. So during the past year, by the use of polls, questionnaires, and interviews, the Tribune has presented an accurate barometer of opinions here at Reserve on important questions. The Tribune affords opportunities for many Reserve students from the various colleges to get practical experience in varied fields of journalism. This is attested to by the fact that many ex-Tribune writers are now employed on the Press, News, and Plain Dealer.

RED CAT

LOUIS GUZZO Editor

The Red Cat, first issued in 1924 as a humor magazine, underwent a complete reorganization this year. Chief aim in reorganization was to make the Red Cat an all-University publication rather than an Adelbert publication. The popular "joke" front has been abolished, but plenty of humor still remains. Responsibility has been placed on an editorial board composed of representatives from the several colleges of the University. Emphasis has been placed on presenting an all-University magazine which will be informative as well as interesting and entertaining. More photographs and student cartoons are included in each issue. Stress has been placed on obtaining representative literature turned out by the better undergraduate writers and interviews of famous individuals, prominent faculty members and undergraduates, and administrators of the University. Indeed, every student angle obtainable has been included in the "new" Red Cat. Included in the reorganization are the business, circulation, and advertising staffs.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is the strong student governing body of Adelbert composed of elected representatives from the four classes. In addition to the regularly elected Council members, the presidents of the four classes serve as ex-officio members. The purpose of the Council is to enact legislation and administer policies which will bring about greatest possible benefit to the students and bring closer cooperation between the various factions of the college. This student governing body is responsible for the activities budget and its apportionment among the various student activities. It is also charged with the regulation of the point system for honor keys.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Interfraternity Council is an organization made up of the presidents and past presidents representing the fourteen Reserve undergraduate fraternities. The Council deals with all problems and projects necessitating the mutual cooperation of the fraternities. The Interfraternity Council publishes a pamphlet each year which is sent to prospective Reserve students citing the advantages of Reserve and the fraternities. They also organize the Homecoming celebration—the election of a Homecoming queen, provision of prizes for the best decorated fraternity house and float, and the organization of a Homecoming parade. Each spring they sponsor the Interfraternity formal and the Interfraternity sing-out.

VIGILANTES

Traditional with the arrival of a new freshman class each fall are the activities of a group of sophomores known as the Vigilantes. This organization composed of outstanding men in the class attempts to orient and initiate the freshman into college life, to promote school spirit, and to encourage freshmen to support the various school and class functions. On the lighter side, the Vigilantes enforce "freshman rules" and take charge of the time-honored hazing. The Vigilantes form a nucleus for the sophomore participation in the flag rush.

RESERVE ROSTRUM

A recent book written by Professor Alan Nichols of the University of Southern California, referred to the work of the Reserve Rostrum as "the most conspicuous work in the nation in extension debating." During the 1940-41 season, more than two hundred debates, discussions, or speeches were presented by the Rostrum to audiences all over the middle west. One intercollegiate debate with Northwestern was carried by a national network of Mutual Broadcasting System. Colleges sending representatives to Cleveland included Dartmouth, Florida, Boston and Pittsburgh, and Reserve speakers appeared at the University of Nebraska, at Wisconsin, Missouri, Indiana, Michigan and other midwestern universities. Some thirty speakers and twenty managers cooperated in the activities of the Rostrum during 1940-41.

Y. M. C. A. CABINET

Among the most progressive and valuable groups on the Adelbert campus is the Y.M.C.A. Primary purpose of this organization is to sponsor programs for the student which will be valuable to him as an individual, and at the same time will promote a proper crientation of his activities within the group. Each year the "Y" sponsors a one-day camp for freshmen during freshman week. Throughout the year weekly lectures are given on current problems by eminent authorities.

J. Orr, A. Thomas, R. Tuckerman, G. Lozick, W. Leonard, L. Bunch, R. Benua, D. Nelson, R. Young, R. Davis.

SOCK AND BUSKIN

Sock and Buskin is made up of Adelbert men who are interested in dramatics. Participation in at least one play is required before being considered for membership. Each year Sock and Buskin presents one three-act play and several one-act plays in Eldred Theater. It is under the auspices of this group that aspiring actors are introduced to collegiate dramatics, and are prepared for the later participation in higher player's groups of the University.

W. Boehm, J. Price, R. Trottnau, M. Fuss, S. Fisher, J. Bankhurst, G. Guy, J. Mihal, F. Borgman.

FOIL AND MACE

Student politics at Adelbert, as in all colleges, are divided between two political parties—fraternity men and independents. Foil and Mace, the executive committee for the fraternity party, is composed of one representative from each of the houses on the campus. Its chief purpose is the preparation of election slates for class elections and the organization and promotion of fraternity men as candidates for class offices and the Student Council. This year Foil and Mace candidates held a majority of class offices.

WARION SOCIETY

Election to Warion Society is the well deserved distinction awarded to those select few who have been exceptionally prominent in extra-curricular activities. Open only to Juniors and Seniors, Warion is recognized as one of the highest honors an Adelbert man can receive. Each year on Campus Day Warion awards to the outstanding senior the Warion Trophy. They also sponsor the traditional Campus Day in May, and they co-sponsor the annual Warion Blue Key dance held at Thanksgiving.

PHI SOCIETY

Phi Society is a scholastic honorary group, election to which requires a 2.0 average at the end of the freshman year or a 2.2 average at the end of the sophomore and junior years. Phi Society is a national organization and was established primarily for the purpose of encouraging high scholarship and the stimulation of lower classmen to strive for an average standing that will entitle them to nomination for Phi Beta Kappa, with which it is affiliated.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club is a highly popular musical organization made up entirely of Adelbert men. It has been the practice of the club to sing for chapel programs, present one concert annually, and appear on several radio programs. The large repertoire of the Glee Club ranges from classical to semi-classical and modern selections. Singing in this group may be excellently tied in with many of the musical courses offered by the University.

BAND

The Reserve Band is an important contributor to school spirit and an active participant at athletic and special events. This year the band played at all Reserve home games as well as at the Ohio University game at Athens, at several basketball games, homecoming and victory parades, chapel programs, and at their annual concert in Severance Hall. The band was on hand at the Union Terminal for both the departure and return of the football team from the Sun Bowl game in El Paso, Texas.

Alpha Delta Phi was founded at Hamilton College, Clinton, New York, in 1832 by Samuel Eells. Alpha Delta Phi is one of the oldest college fraternities, and it has the distinction of being the pioneer fraternity at eleven colleges. In 1841 a chapter was established at Hudson, the first national social fraternity at Reserve. In the words of its founder, it was formed as a society of "a higher nature and more comprehensive and better principles" than those literary organizations then in existence on college campuses.

Alpha Phi Delta was established at Syracuse University in 1912. In 1916 the Syracuse group united with an organization at Columbia known as Sigma Phi Delta. The chapter at Syracuse became the Alpha chapter and the one at Columbia became the Beta chapter. Kappa, as the Reserve chapter is called, was established in 1922. The Alpha Phi Delts moved from an apartment on Stearns Road to a new house on Cornell Road last fall.

Beta Theta Pi, founded at Miami University in 1839, was the sixth college fraternity and the first to originate west of the Alleghenies. The local chapter, the third to receive a charter, was organized at Hudson in 1841. Beta Theta Pi was the first member of the powerful Miami Triad. The Betas claim many famous jurists particularly Supreme Court justices. National president of Beta Theta Pi this year is Professor William Dawson of the Reserve Law School. The Beta pin is eight sided with a gold enwreathed diamond capped by three gold stars on a background of black.

Delta Kappa Epsilon was founded at Yale College in 1844. From there it spread throughout the East and South, and later throughout the whole country and Canada. Since the turn of the century a very conservative expansion policy has been followed, with the admission of only eight new chapters, making a total of 47 active chapters. Delta Kappa Epsilon claims, with the exception of Phi Beta Kappa, more men, as well as a greater percentage of its membership, in "Who's Who in America", than any other Greek letter fraternity. Over 710 Dekes are listed in "Who's Who". Beta Chi, the Reserve chapter was founded at Hudson in 1868.

Delta Tau Delta was founded at Bethany College, Virginia (now West Virginia), in the spring of 1858; but it was not until 1859 that a motto, badge, and constitution were formally adopted. In 1886 The Rainbow Society, a fraternity founded in Mississippi and strong in the southern states, amalgamated with Delta Tau Delta. The Reserve Chapter, Zeta, was granted a charter in 1882 when the school was still located at Hudson, Ohio. The badge of Delta Tau Delta is a square shield with conclave sides displaying the gold letters "DTD" on black enamel; above is an eye; below a crescent, and in each corner a star.

Delta Upsilon was organized at Williams College in 1834 as a protest against secret fraternities. Originally called the Anti-Secret Confederation the name was changed to Delta Upsilon in 1864. Of the many anti-secret organizations founded about that time, Delta Upsilon was the only one that survived. Bitterly hostile attitude toward secret fraternities has passed, but emphasis is still placed on the non-secret nature of the fraternity. There is no grip, no password, and its constitution and convention record have always been public. The Reserve chapter was founded in 1848 as the fifth of the present sixty chapters. The D U motto is, "Justice Our Foundation".

The Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity was founded at Boston University in 1909. It was not originally intended as a Greek letter organization, but later developments made it such. In the comparatively short period from 1909 to 1941, Lambda Chi Alpha has grown to be the third largest Greek letter fraternity with 106 chapters throughout the United States and Canada. In the summer of 1939, final action was taken to affect the merger of the Lambda Chi Alpha and Theta Kappa Nu fraternities in the largest merger in fraternity history. The local chapter, Alpha Nu, was founded at Reserve in 1918 when the National Federation of Commons Clubs became a part of Lambda Chi.

Phi Epsilon Pi was founded at the City College of New York in 1904. Although the fraternity was founded as a non-sectarian organization and still continues non-sectarian in costitution and ritual, the membership has always been predominantly Jewish, and at the present time, the entire undergraduate membership is Jewish. Phi Epsilon Pi is one of the three largest and oldest Jewish fraternities in the country with 32 active chapters and over five thousand members. The chapter at Reserve, established in 1933, is known as the Alpha Kappa Chapter.

Phi Gamma Delta, founded at Jefferson College (now Washington and Jefferson) by a small group of students who united themselves with fraternal bonds, grew into a large national organization numbering seventy-one chapters and one hundred ten alumni groups. The Fiji's, as they are called, experienced a steady growth in all sections of the country, and also instituted two chapters in Canada. The Reserve chapter Xi Deuteron, was founded in 1876 when Western Reserve University was still located at Hudson, Ohio. The national convention called the Ekklesia, meets every eighteen months. Sectional conventions are held oftener.

Phi Sigma Delta Fraternity, "Nurtured in friendship and rooted in faith", was founded at Columbia University in 1910. Kappa of Phi Sigma Delta was established on the Adelbert campus in 1920. The chapters are predominantly in the east with western expansion taking place recently. The government is vested in a body known as the Executive Council and it offers undergraduates several notable awards for outstanding scholarship. The colors are purple and white and the pin is a monogram of the Greek letters Phi Sigma Delta, joined obliquely. The chapter moved into a new house on Bellflower Road during the past year.

Pi Kappa Alpha was founded in the perpetuation of the friendship of six students at the University of Virginia during the year of 1867. At first, chapters were limited to the South and Southwest. In 1909 chapters were permitted anywhere in the United States, and in 1933 Canadian chapters were added. Pi Kappa Alpha now has chapters located in almost every state in the union. The original Pi Kappa Alpha chapter at Adelbert was known as Pi Kappa Phi, in 1915 it became affiliated with Pi Kappa Alpha as the Beta Epsilon chapter. The fraternity is governed by a convention, Supreme Council, and through 19 district organizations.

Sigma Chi originated at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio in 1855 by seven students, six of whom had originally belonged to Delta Kappa Epsilon and had voluntarily withdrawn from membership due to a misunderstanding. A unique feature in the history of Sigma Chi, and one which has no parallel in the records of other fraternities, was the existence during the Civil War, of a chapter in the Confederate Army. Beta Eta Chapter was granted a charter in 1909 and is considered unique in the fraternity world in that it is composed of students from two colleges—Case and Reserve.

Sigma Nu was founded at the Virginia Military Institute in 1869 from an organization known as the Legion of Honor. The next year a charter was granted to a group of students at the University of Virginia which heralded the conversion from a local fraternity to one of national significance. Unlike most other fraternities, Sigma Nu expansion began in the South then spread to the West coast and entered Eastern schools last. Sigma Nu was the first fraternity to enter many state universities, particularly in the West. The Reserve chapter was granted a charter in 1909.

Zeta Beta Tau was founded by a group of fourteen college men in New York City. The originators called the group ZBT and had no intention of forming a Greek letter secret fraternity. Due to many requests, the organization was made into a secret college fraternity and the name of Zeta Beta Tau was adopted. In 1907, with no chapter west of the Allegheny mountains, Zeta Beta Tau granted a charter to a group of Jewish students at Adelbert to be known as the Lambda chapter. The badge is in the shape of a diamond edged with pearls, and in the center, which is slightly raised, are the letters "ZBT" in gold.

The 1940 football season will go down as perhaps the greatest in the annals of Western Reserve intercollegiate athletics. Not only did Reserve recapture the Big-4 title, but their victory in the Sun Bowl game on New Year's Day at El Paso, Texas, gained countrywide recognition for the school as well as for the team. At times there were barely two full teams available, but exceptional quality, hard work, and the "60 minute men", made final victory possible.

After barely defeating a weak Akron team in the opener and meeting defeat in the second game of the season against a powerful Dayton University team, the future looked dark for the Red Cats. Successive victories over Miami, Boston, Ohio U., and Carroll convinced Reserve football followers, however, that the 1940 squad was a truly great one. On Thanksgiving morning, in one of the most thrilling games ever staged in Cleveland, the Red Cats whipped Case and claimed the Big-4 crown.

CHEER LEADERS

Of course it was the Sun Bowl game which proved to be the most spectacular. In the "never to be forgotten" department are Johnny Ries' thrilling sprints in his last game for Reserve, Dick Booth's beautifully executed "coffin-corner" punts which set the Arizonans back on their heels, the fierce, savage, charging of the Red Cat forwards Waggle, Borland, Hudson, and Noland, and Steve Belichick's ram-like thrusts into the Arizona line. The Case game saw Ernie Eros, with a severely injured leg, leave the bench long enough to kick a field goal and snatch victory from defeat. Graduation claims many stars from this team, but Culp, Lynch, Skoczen, Mulholland, Taylor, Udelson, and the promising freshmen material, all point toward a bright future. Credit must be given to Coaches Edwards, Miller, and Myslenski, and to the Reserve football players and loyal fans, who are facing the future confident that the smashing triumph of last year can be repeated by our new coach and his capable staff.

The schedule of this year's quintet was shorter, but probably as difficult as those of previous years. After losing many outstanding stars from last year's squad which claimed the Big-4 championship, the record for this year was not discouraging. Many sophomores and juniors were called upon to fill the shoes of these graduated stars and their inexperience often was the cause for defeat. Akron, Baldwin-Wallace, Buffalo, Colgate, John Carroll, the Alumni, and Case, claimed victory over the Red Cats who defeated Buffalo, Case, and John Carroll.

Although in basketball personal honor is subordinated to team coordination many individual stars were developed in their particular branches of play, Belichick, Anderson, and Ries, provided a constant scoring threat, while Hudson and Luther starred at defensive work. Among the new men were Skoczen, Lynch, Reed, and Taylor, and all of them showed great promise for the future.

In spite of the record Reserve basketball fans were more than pleased with the spirit, sportsmanship, and aggressiveness, exhibited by the basketeers on the hardwood floor, and many thrilling moments were provided during the season.

This year witnessed the development of perhaps the finest freshman team in Reserve's history. The men were big and fast; always threatening on the offense and almost impenetrable on the defense. Becker, Gubernot, Dewalt, and many others promise to develop into real basketball stars, and with such a group as this to work with for the next three years the future of basketball at Reserve looks especially bright.

Last year's track enthusiasts were treated to an enviable show of splendid individual performances. Led by Joe Scott, nationally known track star, who scored more points than any other track man in Reserve history, the cinder-men gave their opponents a gruelling, but in some cases unsuccessful battle. Holger Anderson also performed well, while Rizzo, Hanahan, and Schulte, gave great promise for the future. The Red Cats showed the stamina, courage, and fight, traditional to previous squads.

Reserve track fans will be disappointed to learn that due to the absence of Coach Chan Coulter, who was called to service as a National Guard officer, and the lack of equipment, track has been discontinued at Reserve. It is hoped that the near future will see the restoration of this popular sport.

SWIMMING

Although the swimming record for this year was comparatively unimpressive, the Red Cat natators showed flashes of great ability several times during the season. Last year's graduation claimed many stars and this year found Captain Dan Marshall ineligible for the season. For these reasons Reserve had a difficult time coping with its many formidable opponents. But the Cats met some of the better college swimming teams in this section and gave them all nip and tuck battles. Outstanding performances were given by several men on the team and the entrance into our college of some fine new swimmers during the last year point to an even more powerful and well balanced squad for the next few years to come.

TENNIS

Champions of the Big-4 for the third consecutive year! This is the enviable record compiled by the Reserve tennis team. Playing a schedule greatly reduced by bad weather, the netmen whipped both John Carroll and Akron twice, and Baldwin-Wallace once, while losing their only match to Oberlin's tough team. Led by Krashin, Cain, Callahan, and Hudec, of last year's team, and augmented by Frankel, Feldman, Maire, and Worthington, the squad won its last four matches after absorbing a beating in the first test of the season against Oberlin's well-conditioned netmen. In spite of several losses due to graduation all indications point toward another successful season. The team's popularity at Reserve is assured by the enthusiasm of the squad, and its unexcelled record established over a period of many years in intercollegiate competition.

The Intramural Department, which conducts and organizes the Intramural Sports, is very important to the average Adelbert student. Throughout the year, there is always some form of athletics occurring, open to any group or individual person. The department's main purposes are the planning, supervising, and regulation of these athletics. Medals, keys, and other forms of commemoration are given to the participants for outstanding achievement in the various events. Competition is always very keen, due to the active participation of the various rival social fraternities on the campus. With a complete and far-reaching program, this department enables every student to find some sport in which he can enthusiastically participate or excell.

HOCKEY

Although the season was not as successful as hoped for, hockey once again proved itself to be one of the most popular intercollegiate sports in which Reserve participated. The hard body-checking and furious puck-chasing appealed to all who watched the Red Cats perform. Although the results showed that Reserve won only two games the scores of the contests proved that the Red Cats were aggressive and speedy. Schulte fulfilled all expectations and developed into a real scoring threat. Gilson, Voss, and Giles played fine hockey while Swenson earned the reputation of one of the best net-minders in the league. If future Reserve hockey teams continue to exhibit as much fight, speed, sportsmanship, and color as this year's squad, then a brilliant future will be assured for Western Reserve hockey history.

GYMNASTICS

Gymnastics is a sport of increasing popularity and widespread recognition at Reserve. The team has successfully engaged in several major exhibitions in the past year. Once again the squad was faced with hardships due to lack of financial aid and general student support. Its members however, through their own cooperative efforts and hard work, have proceeded to make an enviable record for themselves. Henry Krueger, Phil Young, Al Borland, and many others have assisted in uniting this outfit into a strong organization which may, in the near future, take the place among Western Reserve University athletics to which it is most deserving. A word of praise must be spoken for Coach Robert Grueninger who, with infinite patience and ambition, has been instrumental in the development of this fine group.

SQUIBS AND RIBS

In view of the fact that this year has been so eventful and will some day be looked back upon with such pleasure, we of the editorial board of this yearbook deem it necessary that this section be added to the book as a running sketch of the year 1940-1941 at Adelbert College.

Adelbert is an old and high ranking college with the background and mellowed traditions that younger colleges and universities do not possess. So it must have seemed at the beginning of Freshman Week to the odd two hundred young men who for the first time stepped on our campus to make it their home for the succeeding four years. Fall presented a quiet and restful picture to the incoming student, and so it remained until the first convocation has been held after which the fourteen fraternities started their rushing in earnest.

Greek letters were mixed into a meanlingless mozaic in the minds of these young men as they visited house after house in a gay round of parties, dances, shows, and outings designed by the fraternity men to point out the social advantages of each individual organization. In close conjunction with the gayer side of college, each house pointed with pride to its special achievements in such fields of endeavor as point average, dramatics, intramural sports standing, varsity athletics, and good fellowship.

Not to be outdone by its offspring organizations, the school itself offered a definite program designed to orient the new man to his surroundings. Besides taking tests to determine more fully the abilities of the freshman, he was given the opportunity to sit in on lectures outlined to help him in the pursuit of his college career.

Hark to our song of praise . . .

Equally important, the work was climaxed by two social events which gave the new student the opportunity to meet his classmates on our campus and on the women's campus. An outing at the Y Camp presented for freshmen by the Y Cabinet brought the whole group together for an afteroon and evening climaxed by a dinner for the purpose of unifying the class in spirit and good fellowship. In addition, our All-U dance was held at which the new men were overcome by the beauty that is Mather. After such an experience who could think of transferring from our Alma Mater?

Tuesday following this first week was opened by a university convocation. There inspiration and advice were presented for the coming year. The students stood in a body to sing the Alma Mater and then strolled leisurely to their respective campuses.

Though inducted into this new situation amid blissful happiness, the freshman was soon pulled back into the world of reality by the opening sessions of his classes and the sudden appearance of a group of brazen sophomores banded together and known as the Vigilantes. A tradition at Adelbert, this group was the alert watch whose duty it was to see that freshmen learned the school songs and treated all older students with the respect that was rightfully theirs. Numerous were the newcomers who had to be reminded by paddles and by short excursions to the nearby lake that that was not their day to strut the campus sans freshman cap and forgetful of the little courtesies that make life so smooth.

At noon the Vigilantes could be seen near Severance Hall lovingly protecting their flock and helping them learn the songs and do the few duties that were required of them. The example given on this page illustrates the joy and thankfulness that filled the heart of the new man as he sang the songs that would soon be dear to him.

As a sporting feature, however, the sophomores gave their younger brothers a chance to liberate themselves from their predicament. A flag rush was arranged in the early fall in which the new man, opposed by the sophomores, could capture a bit of cloth from their opponents in order that they might no longer have to wear caps and do those other foolish things. The only obstacles in their path were the sophomores, a thirty-foot pole of which ten feet was covered with grease, heavy nails which hold the cloth in place on its top, and a time limit of one half hour. Of course, the freshmen rarely win, but the hazing is soon forgotten and peace rules on the campus.

During this strenuous period on the campus and in the classrooms the students relaxed by attending All-U dances. Given once or twice every month, these events did their part toward breaking the monotony of routine study. Moreover, the fraternities on the campus held their own dances for their members and gave formals for their new men, for by now decisions had been reached by the men on the campus and those who wished to join the organizations had done so.

In the afternoon during this period a faithful group of boys practiced diligently on the fine points of college football preliminary to the opening of the season. The squad was small, but was extremely capable and was destined to become one of the finest teams ever to wear the red and white of old Reserve. Coached by Bill Edwards and Dugan Miller, Reserve entered its first game with Akron and left the field with a rather shaky decision. The following week found the red and white on the short end of the score in a game with Dayton University, but from that game on the boys played hard football for sixty minutes of thrill-packed enjoyment in every game for our student body.

Though noted as a town or "street car" college, Reserve presents a rounded program of events on its second most important game of the year, homecoming. Under the direction of the school and campus leaders, a parade was formed in the morning before which the queen, Nell Hughes, and her court were congratulated and photographed at the public square. Reserve's band and the crack Ohio U outfit played and marched after which a parade of cars carrying the queen, her attendants, and students of both schools passed from the center of town, up Euclid Avenue, and back to University Circle. And did you see Ohio U's drum majorettes, fellows?

Ohio's band had "oomph".

The afternoon was clear and perfectly adapted for the battle that ensued on the gridiron between these two fine teams. Back and forth the squads battled on the field until Reserve finally scored in the first half. The remainder of the game was climaxed by spirited attempts on the part of both teams to push the ball across, but neither team was able to pierce the line of its opponent when the final few yards loomed ahead. The game ended with old Reserve a 7-0 victor and owner of a totem pole to be presented to the winner of subsequent games between these two fine schools. The victorious day was climaxed by an informal dance with music furnished by Vincent Pattie, one of the university's own students. Thus do Reserve students celebrate on a day memorable to all.

HOMECOMING

And Queen Nell Hughes was easy on the eyes.

Ohio fought without avail.

Following Homecoming Week, life on the campus was again quiet and students pursued their studies with intensity preliminary to tests that form integral parts of the final grades. But behind the scenes a squad of thirty odd men worked hard in the evenings polishing and repolishing plays designed to stamp Mr. Casey into the ground in the mellowed gridiron battle between Reserve and its next door neighbor.

Students were fooled when they thought this was the end of Eros in the Case game.

In keeping with an excellence in various fields such as business and pre-medicine, Adelbert has on its campus a drama department that ranks among the best in the country. During the last year Delta Kappa Epsilon and Delta Upsilon, social fraternities, bought out the house for the opening of the comedy Merchant of Yonkers. Presidents Bob Phelps of D. U. and Les Gilson of D. K. E. pledged the support of their respective houses to the undertaking and through the cooperation of the drama department made this formal theater party one of the high lights of the theater season. Fraternity men and their dates, as well as critics and various guests were thoroughly entertained by the humorous play and the parties at the two houses after the theater had closed.

There was plenty of action in the Reserve-Arizona State game at El Paso.

The day was ideally warm and pleasant that day last fall when teams from Reserve and Case trotted out on the field. But the game was nothing if not violent as first one team and then the other forged into the lead. The score stood 14-12 in favor of Case as Reserve emerged from its huddle with the shadows of its own goal posts creeping up its back and Johnny Ries bent down to receive the ball. Like a human dynamo our own choice for All-American back twisted and turned up the sidelines and was finally brought down in Case territory. A long pass carried the ball to the thirteen yard line. At this point Eros, injured previously in the game, came onto the field to kick a field goal, as the game ended, to preserve the superiority of Reserve over Case.

As is customary, the honorary societies of the two schools held the Warion-Blue key dance to end a perfect day and open the recess for Thanksgiving.

Events moved rapidly at Adelbert from then until the end of the semester. Tests were given, preliminary to the longer Christmas Recess during which the social fraternities held their dances and students took their last rest before finals.

It was during this part of the semester that Reserve was chosen to play in the annual New Year's Day game with a representative team from the southwest. The team to play Reserve was Arizona State Teachers. Being so chosen for the first time in its long history, Reserve played like a team destined to win. The powerful backfield of Reserve matched and overcame the speed of Arizona's boys. Before a crowd of fifteen thousand the red and white came from behind to smash their way through to victory, 26-13; and returned home tired, but happy with their huge trophy.

Excitement among the students over this triumph soon turned to a fervor of another sort. Finals were here and all those things that had been overlooked had to be assimilated in the mad rush before it was too late. In this atmosphere of intensive study marched the first final and for the next ten days life at Adelbert was quiet, but not serene.

The new semester saw Adelbert lose two of its most illustrious members. It was with deepest and most sincere sorrow that those of us who know and had seen Bill Edwards' and Dugan Miller's work became resigned to the fact that they were being advanced to the professional ranks.

In the early part of the second semester Adelbert held its annual Soph-Frosh Hop, one of the events previewing the opening of the mid semester social season, high-pointed by smaller dances held at Hayden Hall and the fraternity houses on the campus. During this period a select group of juniors worked hard on plans to give this campus one of the finest Junior Proms in its history. For a long time students were consulted on individual preferences for a band. Amid difficulties coming from previous bookings arose the name of Benny Goodman, the "king of swing", and his was the band finally chosen to furnish the music.

During Prom Week elections were held to choose the king and queen of the dance. Contesting organizations backed candidates chosen from the university, shifted support, and worked hard to see their representatives win these coveted awards.

The winners were announced at a special party held in the Cuban Terrace Room of the Hotel Statler on the Friday before the dance. Dinner was served to the students who attended, after which dancing and a good time were the theme of the evening. At eleven thirty a local radio station broadcast to the city the fact that Rita Ferreri, Mather's dark beauty, and Bob Culp, Adelbert's football-playing, blond Adonis, had been selected by picked judges as representatives of the university.

The following Saturday, Adelbert men and their dates attended the crowning event of the school's social season at the Hotel Statler. Never before has such a swing concert been given for our men. There is only one word for Benny, and that is "terrific". The whole band, headed by the "Swing King", himself, gave out with all their energies to make that evening one to be remembered for a long time to come. When fast numbers arranged by Fletcher Henderson were played, the whole crowd gathered around the bandstand to watch the fun. This was truly a concert in the modern style, melodious and with a beat that no one could resist.

To add to the excellence of the music, Will Bradly and Ray McKinley sat in on a few numbers and played right along with the band. When the dance ended at two o'clock, each and every person who attended left with the feeling that no school could offer its student body anything superior in the way of entertainment.

However, all good things must come to an end; and so at Adelbert we settled down to study for midsemester exams to be given students so that grades might be determined at this point in the school year. Only occasionally did we catch ourselves looking forward to Campus Day when we could relieve our gay experiences of last year. We could still clearly see the boys running in the Hudson relay, participating in the canoe-tilt, and proudly pointing out to their dates the booths which they helped decorate for the dance in the gym.

It is then that the sudden realization comes to us of what Adelbert has and will mean to us. Those days filled with study, bursting with good fellowship which have left embedded within us a deep sense of satisfaction, become as dear as any that we shall ever experience. Ours is not merely a place for students to attend and then forget when evening comes. It is a school rich with tradition, staffed by one of the countries most capable faculties, and filled with the little things that make a little college a huge storehouse full of treasures available for the asking.
